1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 81 and 82 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claims 81 and 82 do not further limit claim 80 since the range claimed in claims 81 and 82 is broader than the range claimed in claim 80. Correction is required without new matter.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 80-82, 84 and 85 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Beer in view of Thompson et al, Francis, Maglecic, McCrosson and Ylvisaker as set forth on pages 4-8 and 17-20 of the November 21, 2006 Examiner's Answer.
5. Claim 83 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the references as applied to the claims above, and further in view of Miyake et al as set forth on pages 16-17 of said Examiner's Answer.
6. Applicant's arguments filed November 17, 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Although many of Beer's products may be non-frangible, as applicant argues, Beer does disclose the use of ready-to-eat breakfast cereal. One conventional type is puffed cereal, although not specifically disclosed in Beer. However,

Thompson et al renders it obvious to use puffed cereal as the breakfast cereal in Beer, as set forth in said Examiner's Answer. Further, the use of a vacuum sealed bag which reduces breakage of items contained therein, e.g. puffed cereal, is clearly suggested by Maglecic and McCrosson, as set forth in said Examiner's Answer.

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
